WORRY OVER NEGRO COLONEL

ASSIGNED FROM ILLINOIS TO OBSERVE ARMY MANŒUVRES.

Must Be Quartered With U. S. Officer of Equal Rank Under Department Or-ders-First Militia Officers in Camp Negro Cavalry Regiment Defended

SAN ANTONIO, April 4 .-- A delicate matter fraught with possibilities of considerable embarrassment confronted the officers of the various regiments in the divisional camp here to-day when they heard from the early arrivals of the Illinois contingent of National Guard officers that one Colonel, expected here to-morrow, is a negro from Chicago. According to the orders of the War Department every volunteer officer who comes to participate in the manœuvres shall be quartered with a Regular army officer of corresponding rank. Most of the Colonels of the regiments in camp at Fort Sam Houston are Southerners; anyway nearly all army officers share more or less in the caste conventions of the South Just when the camp came up to blow this morning after yesterday's deluge a new trouble hit it. That was the arrival of about sixty of the advance guard of militia officers. The New York delegation of twenty-eight got in over the Iron Mountain road this morning and headed by Lieutenant-Quartermaster Percival E. Nagle, some time Tammany leader in the Thirty-fouth Assembly dis trict away back there in Manhattan. they advanced first upon breakfast at a hotel that has all the gilt and velvet of a Fifth avenue caravansary and then to

The local press had been showing considerable interest over the forthcoming arrival of the man who was reputed to be of Tammany's big braves, and fired by the stories told them by New York correspondents, local reporters were on the qui vive to be shown the Lieutenant-Quartermaster's gorillas. They learned instead that he had come armed with letters of introduction to every politician in San Antonio from Congressman to Coroner street cars to be occupied by negroes had already caused serious disorder, according to Congressman Garner.

When Gen. Carter was asked this afternoon if there was any basis for the Congressman's fears of general disorder being brought about by the presence of the Ninth Cavalry he said:

"The conduct of the soldiers of the division, both white and black, has been exemplary. I have heard of very little disorder and that was by no means confined to negro soldiers. I have no misgivings in the matter of conduct of any of the soldiers of the division."

From officers of Gen. Carter's staff it was learned that when the Ninth Cavalry arrived here from Fort D. A. Russell in Wyoming all the first sergeants, men old in the service and imbued with the spirit of the army, volunteered to their superior officers to be responsible for the conduct and the discipline of the men of the regiment. They have achieved all that they promised. John F. Guilfoyle, the commander of the regiment, said this afternoon. He added that every complaint against the men of his command had been investigated and found to be baseless.
